Hi Sheryl,

The Working Handbook document that I've attached is the background information from all of the policies and handbooks that I've combined. There is nothing about allegation procedures in it. I basically just placed where sections from other handbooks go within our own policy.

I think that you're working more on the procedures side of things, so I'm also attaching the handbooks from other agencies which still need to have the parts about allegation procedures combined. I haven't finished reading through them yet to combine them. The DOI, NOAA, and the new USDA handbook all focus mainly on allegations procedures, so they should be of particular interest to you.

Cheers!
Emily

Hi Emily,

Can you send me the link to the documents? Or send them to me?

Thanks!
Sheryl

Hi Sheryl,

I have most of it on the L: drive, if you have access to that. It's under Scientific Integrity, and then Handbook. There's a document in there that has all of the handbooks combined with our policy, not including allegation procedures. I'm working on combining allegation procedures into one master document right now. If you don't have access, I'll email the information to you!

Cheers,
Emily

How about both? Start reading and let's schedule something! Include Emily please. She is working on other parts of the handbook.

Thanks!

Hi Francesca and Marti,
I have time next week to start on the next project, the procedures handbook. Would you like to meet to discuss further?
Or in the meantime, would you prefer if I start reading the USDA, Dept of Interior and other documents you mentioned?

Thanks!
Sheryl
